ITX Wins 2006 USDA SDB Contractor of the Year Award

Fort Collins, Colorado, June 1, 2006 – Information Technology Experts, Inc. (ITX) today announced that the company has been named the 2006 U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB) Contractor of the Year.

“The selection process is tiered,” said Debbie Sanders, USDA Contracting Officer, “because 12 buying agencies within USDA each submit nominations in eight categories, then a winner from each agency is chosen, then an overall USDA winner is named. USDA chose ITX as the overall winner in the SDB category based on their consistent quality of performance and the fact that they exceed their performance-based contract expectations every year.”

ITX has been supporting the USDA since 2001 by 65 staff located in Colorado, Missouri, Oregon, Wisconsin, Utah, Idaho, Nebraska, Washington, and California.
